

Restaurant sales for first Monday of indoor dining up 4% compared to 2019

- On the first day of indoor dining, like-for-like restaurant sales exceeded 2019 levels despite bad weather in much of the UK
- Compared to the previous Monday (May 10) like-for-like sales were up 70%
- 82% of locations have reopened

London, May 18th, According to restaurant analytics software Tenzo, average restaurant sales were up 4% compared to 2019 levels yesterday on the first day of indoor dining. Compared to the previous Monday, like-for-like sales got a 70% boost. Further, Tenzo's database shows that 82% of restaurants have now reopened either for dine in or takeaway/delivery. We expect to see even more restaurants open throughout the week.

The graph below shows weekly average like-for-like sales percentage figures until the week of May 10th and the like-for-like sales percentage for Monday, May 17th.

Average like-for-like sales 2021 vs 2019

